Ease-up On Suez Is Urged

Pressure Continues
To Mount for Canal
Compromise to Save
Both Sides' Pride

LONDON (AP)—Pressure mounted today for a compromise over the Suez Canal that would save the pride of both Britain and Egypt.

The pressure came from statesmen and newspapers as delegates arrived to begin a 22-nation conference Thursday on the canal's future.

Britain, France and the United States arranged the conference to work out international control of the 103-mile waterway.

Prime Minister Eden and Premier Guy Mollet of France met with their cabinets on the crisis. In Cairo, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi began a series of meetings with diplomatic representatives of countries taking part in the London talks.

Egypt precipitated the crisis last month by seizing the Suez Canal Co. It refused to attend the London conference but proposed one of its own.

There were reports the United States and India had put forward separate compromise proposals. The reports could not be confirmed.

A Foreign Office spokesman said he had no reason to believe the United States had changed its views since joining last week in the three power call for international control.

V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian delegate to the conference, saw President Nasser of Egypt en route to London. He then had a long talk on his arrival with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Results of the talk were not disclosed.

Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Gholi Ardalan, arriving for the conference, suggested Nasser was in a mood to compromise. He recalled Nasser's proposal Sunday for an alternative 45-nation meeting.

In Hamburg, Germany, the 7,884-ton British freighter Benledi was loading about 70 British army trucks and other equipment.

The British press showed growing concern that Britain might stumble into war over the canal.

The Daily Mirror, which opposes Eden's Conservative government, said in an editorial the Prime Minister will not have the support of the British public if he resorts to military action.

Under a heavy front-page headline, "No War Over Egypt," the Mirror asserted any such move could only lead to Eden's resignation and called on him "to alter his course, even if a change of heart might prove fatal to him as a politician."

The Mirror's statement came shortly after leaders of the opposition Labor party urged Eden to "make plain that military measures taken in the last 10 days are purely precautionary and solely intended for defense against possible aggression."

The Laborites called on Eden to state that increases in Britain's land, sea and air forces in the Mediterranean area are "not preparations for armed intervention outside and inconsistent with our obligations under the charter of the United Nations."

They added that a special meeting of the U.N. General Assembly should be called to receive any conclusions reached by the London conference.

The Laborite Daily Herald also urged a U.N. link in handling the dispute.

"Unless the Prime Minister quickly clarifies our position," the Herald said, "Thursday's conference is going to begin with widespread belief that Britain and France are threatening to take the law into their own hands. This would be calamitous to our cause. It is unlikely that the world is going to recognize any pronouncement of this conference as giving us rights on which we can stand unless it is linked to the United Nations."

Hodge Placed Under Guard In Hospital

Psychiatrist Says
Ex-Auditor Suffers
From Nervous Strain

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Orville E. Hodge, ousted state auditor facing sentence in defrauding the state in a million dollar financial scandal, was under guard in a Springfield hospital today.

Hodge was removed to the hospital last night seven hours after he was taken to the Sangamon County jail to await sentence on his plea of guilty to bilking the state of $637,000.

The former Republican state auditor's $100,000 bond was returned and he was jailed after his guilty plea on 48 indictments.

Hodge, visibly shaken, told reporters when he entered the jail he was "awfully sick." He was removed to St. John's Hospital on recommendation of a Springfield psychiatrist, Dr. Paul M. Cadwell, who previously had said Hodge was suffering from nervous strain similar to "battle fatigue."

Hodge's removal was approved by county authorities and a guard was posted at his hospital room. While he was in jail, neither Hodge's wife, Margaret, nor his son, William, visited him. They were not in court when he pleaded guilty.

Hodge's guilty plea in circuit court allowed the imposition of possible prison terms ranging from 1 to 5 to 15 years on each of 329 counts contained in the 48 indictments. The maximum that could be imposed could range in hundreds of years.

The 51-year-old dapper politician who once aspired to the governor's chair is scheduled to be sentenced Monday.

Benson Says Winter Wheat Growers Have Sept. 21 As Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson says winter wheat growers will have until Sept. 21 to enter the 1957 soil bank program.

For participating in the program wheat farmers will receive an average of $1.20 a bushel, the same as the 1956 support, Benson said.

Details of how the program will apply to other basic crops will be announced later.

Most of Missouri Is Due for Warmup

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Most of Missouri is due for a warmup. It will be warmer in the extreme north this afternoon and tonight with highs in the state generally in the 90s on Wednesday.

The only moisture indicated is the chance of a few local thunder-showers in the southeast this afternoon or evening. Heaviest rainfall in the past 24 hours was .26 of an inch at Springfield.

Highest reading in the state yesterday was 99 at Springfield. The lowest was 84 at Kirksville.

Black Market Coins Bring Arrest of 26

CALTANISSETTA, Sicily (AP)—A black market in ancient coins led to the arrest today of 26 Sicilians. The coins were from a hoard described as one of the richest ever found.

Ten workmen discovered them in a huge vase while digging a cellar last month near the railroad station in Gela, Sicily. They said they counted about 900 coins, took them home and began offering them for sale. Thus the coins reached Sicilian black marketeers.

British Will Test Four Atomic Weapons

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The chief of Britain's atomic program, Sir William Penney, said today four atomic weapons will be tested at Maralinga, South Australia, next month.

Penney, here to supervise the tests, told a news conference two weapons would be exploded from towers, another "operational" weapon of a service type would be dropped from a bomber, and a fourth, of very small explosive power, would be detonated on the ground.

Democrats Seek Unity Above Issue

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic platform drafters sought today to place party unity above how they feel on racial segregation in schools—an issue that could tear them apart as they gird for the November elections.

Compromisers went to work at the party's convention where they work best—backstage. You had to strain to see the forces trying to settle the dispute to the satisfaction of both North and South.

At stage center was the platform's farm plank, about to be put on public display shortly. So far, three such little-controversy planks have been unveiled as proposals of a 17-member drafting committee, yet to be acted upon by the 108-member Platform Committee and the convention delegates.

These three deal with finances, atomic energy and domestic policies in general. Together with the civil rights and seven other planks they are expected to be made ready today and tonight for presentation to the convention in time for a final vote tomorrow night.

A strong voice for party unity, with a civil rights plank somewhat satisfactory to all, was that of Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Rayburn told his Texas delegation yesterday: "Somewhere, some way we will get a plank on which Texas can run a candidate for president and elect him."

Rayburn is backing Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas' favorite son, for the presidential nomination.

House Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, chairman of the Platform Committee, is holding the touchy civil rights plank till last.

"I feel confident of a platform that the convention will approve," he told newsmen. To questions, he said yes, that included civil rights.

Some sources said advisers of Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman, the top-running presidential aspirants, were being consulted quietly.

Missourians Hold Firm— Sedalia Delegate Believes Symington Chances Bright

CHICAGO (Special)—The convention picture so far looks "mighty good for Symington" says Sedalia Delegate William Brown.

The Missouri delegation still plans to stick with its favorite son, Sen. Stuart Symington. Richard Nacy of Jefferson City says the delegation will stick so long as there is any chance. And if front-runner Adlai Stevenson is stopped on the first ballots, he says, there may be a chance.

At the moment, though, Stevenson's strength seems to be holding firm. His fate may turn on the outcome of a very probable row over the civil rights plank of the platform. It also hinges on the attitude of Sen. Lyndon Johnson, who has the Texas delegation in his pocket.

Party chieftains—or most of them—are working hard to achieve unity. Interpreted, that means they are doing their best to avoid a showdown fight on civil rights. But strangely enough, Ex-President Truman may have made that fight inevitable with his endorsement of Gov. Harriman of New York.

Truman apparently did not succeed in starting a stampede to Harriman. But he did stiffen "liberals" in their determination to seek a strong civil rights plank. That raises the possibility of a floor fight if the platform committee produces a weak harmony plank.

Symington Thinks Odds Narrowing In Dark Horse Bid

He Speaks Briefly at a Meeting
Called in Chicago to Select Missourians' Steering Committee

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington told Missouri delegates today the odds are narrowing in his dark horse bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I would say that the odds have been reduced from a million to one perhaps to 100,000 to one," he told the applauding delegates.

Symington spoke briefly at a meeting called to set up a steering committee headed by James E. Meredith of St. Louis, his 1952 senatorial campaign manager.

Chosen to work with Meredith as an executive committee were John J. Dwyer, St. Louis city Democratic chairman; Richard R. Nacy of Jefferson City, former state chairman; J. Marcus Kirtley of Independence, Jackson County chairman; State Sen. Michael Kinney of St. Louis; former Sen. D. W. Gilmore of Kansas City, and state party chairman Wilbur F. Daniels of Fayette.

Meredith said he thought a formal organization was needed "to put this show on the road."

Because of developments in the last three days, Meredith said he had concluded "we have the man from Missouri who has a very, very good chance to be nominated for the presidency."

On a motion by C. L. Blanton Jr., of Sikeston, the delegates roared approval of a plan to stick with Symington in the convention voting "until the other man has more than 700 votes"—in other words stay with Symington all the way and not join any bandwagon drive for a winner.

Blanton said the Missouri group should "not change for political expediency."

Earlier many of the delegates came out openly in support of Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee for the vice presidential nomination.

Almost before the keynote finished his old-fashioned, camp meeting oratory last night, delegates confirmed reports of considerable Clement strength for vice president in the Missouri group.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings, delegation chairman, said a good many delegates had told him they favored Clement.

And Wilbur F. Daniels of Fayette, the party's state chairman, said considerable Clement backing had existed for a long time in Missouri. The Tennessee governor "Wowed" a big Jackson Day audience in Springfield, Mo., last winter and also keynoted the state convention in May.

Richard R. Nacy of Jefferson City said he thought Clement could get a majority of the Missouri delegation for the vice presidential nomination if his name is presented as expected.

"He's a terrific speaker and a great showman," Nacy said. The Missouri delegates shook with laughter at his jokes at the Republicans.

So did former President Harry S. Truman and his wife, who sat in nearby mezzanine seats overlooking the Missouri group. The former President appeared to get a great kick out of Clement's salty phrases and several times turned to other members of his party to comment and chuckle over the witicism.

In the traditional role of a candidate, Sen. Stuart Symington, Missouri's dark horse hopeful for the presidential nomination, did not attend any of the convention sessions yesterday and his aides said he did not plan to appear on the floor.

Instead he spent much of the day talking with members of other

Harriman Bandwagon Is Said Developing

CHICAGO (AP)—Averell Harriman said today he believes a Harriman bandwagon is "definitely" developing in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

To a question as to where increased support for him was coming from, he said, "All over the country—from Maine to New Mexico and Arizona."

He refused to be drawn into an estimate of how many votes he expects on the first ballot. His headquarters estimated yesterday he had assurances of about 400. The Adlai Stevenson camp claims 600 or more. Needed to nominate are 686½.

Harriman expected to devote the day chiefly to talking to members of as many state delegations as possible in an effort to gain support.

state delegations and their leaders.

He conferred some time with Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, regarded by many as a key figure in the nomination battle. Afterward Symington reported they talked about the platform and politics, but did not discuss personalities.

Symington backers made no claims of specific vote strength in other states.

Dems Remain Deadlocked In Nomination

Outlook Uncertain
As Party Faithfuls
Convene Second Day

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—There was no sign of a break today from the essential deadlock in the struggle among the Democrats over their presidential nomination.

"Favorite sons" still clinging to their votes, and the big block of delegates silent as to their sentiments kept the outlook teetering in uncertainty as the party faithful returned to this hall for the second day of their convention.

Forces backing Averell Harriman, who is waging an uphill battle to catch the front-running Adlai Stevenson, professed to find the situation to their liking.

The Harriman people said the reluctance of many state delegations to take a firm position indicate "discontent" in groups previously regarded as leaning to, or virtually in, the Stevenson camp.

But to many of the old pros, Stevenson looked like an odds-on favorite. By an Associated Press poll of delegates, he was just 132½ votes short of the 686½ needed for the nomination. Moreover, a big parcel of uncommitted votes was in the South. Southern sentiment is clearly toward a preference for Stevenson over Harriman if it comes to a choice of taking one or the other.

The AP poll of delegates willing to express a preference gave Stevenson 554, Harriman 229½, and other candidates 233. This left 305½ in the uncommitted category.

Among the uncommitted were 22 from Mississippi, 11 from Alabama, 14½ from Arkansas, 19½ from Georgia, 19½ from Virginia, and 9 from North Carolina. South Carolina's 20 are pledged to Gov. George Bell Timmerman as a favorite son.

And today, Tennessee decided that on the first ballot its 32 would go to Gov. Frank Clement, the party keynote who rocked this hall last night with a fighting-praying call to arms against the Republicans.

California Governor Would Be Honored By VP Nomination

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California's Gov. Goodwin Knight, no political friend of Vice President Nixon, said yesterday he would be honored to be nominated to run in Nixon's stead with President Eisenhower.

But Leonard Hall, the Republican national chairman, said, "It will be Eisenhower and Nixon on the first ballot."

Knight has offered himself before. But yesterday he said it at the Long Beach convention of the State Federation of Labor (AFL)—just a week before Monday's opening of the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

"Many respected leaders and members of organized labor throughout the nation have been kind enough to suggest that the Republican convention should nominate me for vice president," he said.

Sparkman In Preventive Measures

CHICAGO (Special) — Senator John Sparkman, who was Stevenson's running mate in 1952, is effectively using political preventive medicine against an outbreak of Civil Rights fever.

Quietly he stands around in the lobby of Blackstone Hotel a few steps away from the room where the platform committee is meeting. That's where an epidemic could start.

Hot heads of north and south both rush up to him.

Southerners know he understands that lauding the Supreme Court decision of desegregation of schools is "too much."

He tells his southern friends he prefers the 1952 platform which was "a statement of principles not specific legislation."

Those worried, over candidate Stevenson's remark of "unequivocal approval" for the Supreme Court decision, are reminded that Stevenson in the same remark said inclusion in the platform should not be necessary. It's the law.

On that point, Judge George Wallace of Clayton, Ala., who is on the platform committee, told Sparkman, "If the decision is based on such weak legal foundation that it must be endorsed by a political convention to give it some semblance of being valid our Federal Judicial system is at a low ebb."

Sparkman tells the liberals "the platform is no place to approve or disapprove any Supreme Court decision" and then reassures them Dixie will not walk out. Rewording the 1952 plank may do the job "because it's impossible to please every Democrat." The Alabama Senator himself appeared before the Platform Committee urging more adequate housing and better break for the more than 4 million Small Business concerns.

Hazel Palmer Urges Platform, Equal Rights

CHICAGO (AP)—Two women quarreled at a Democratic platform hearing Saturday over a plank promising equal rights for women.

Miss Hazel Palmer, of Sedalia, Mo., president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, urged the platform drafters to endorse an amendment to the constitution giving women equal rights with men.

She noted, however, that the party had made such endorsements at previous conventions but that no action had been taken. She suggested that there was little use for putting it in the 1956 platform unless the Democrats meant business.

This brought a protest from Rep. Gracie Plost of Idaho.

"Failure to include it in the platform would weaken the efforts of those of us who are fighting for the amendment," she said.

Miss Palmer finally agreed, but added she hoped the endorsement would be accompanied by a party promise to push the amendment. The major effect of the amendment would be to give women equal pay with men for similar work.

Little League LEAGUERS

The Little League ended its season Monday night with its most serious accident, when Leon Smethers, 12, pitcher for the Kiwanis Club, suffered a fracture of the right leg above the ankle. His team lost to Sedalia Ice & Cold Storage by a one-sided score and dropped to fourth place in the Little League playoffs.

Optimists, playing the B.P.O. Elks won the City Championship by defeating the Elks 11-10. Thus the Little League championship playoffs had ended, as both Optimist and Sedalia Ice have won two straight games.

In the Kiwanis-Sedalia Ice game Smethers was on the mound. It was in the third inning and runners started circling the bases, Mike Green of the Sedalia Ice starting for home plate. Smethers ran in to cover home plate, and Jerry Barr also circled around third and hit for home plate.

Smethers, it appeared, was running for the plate to make the cover and his foot caught the plate and he tripped. According to fans, neither runner collided with the pitcher as he fell.

He was taken to the Bothwell Hospital where Dr. Donald C. Proctor gave emergency treatment and had him transferred to the Independence Sanitarium, Independence, Mo., where a bone specialist set the fracture.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smethers, 652 East 10th. His mother accompanied him to Independence in the Ewing ambulance.

Little League teams going to the Kansas City Athletics and Chicago baseball game in Kansas City Thursday are to meet at the Little League Stadium at 10:30 that morning. Teams planning on making the trip are: Adco, Elks, Lions, Optimist, Kiwanis, and Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage.

The annual Little League All-Star game is to be played Tuesday night, Aug. 28, after the annual picnic. The picnic is to be held at 6 p.m. at the shelter house in Liberty Park for all ball players, managers, coaches, sponsors, and parents of the boys. It will be a covered dish picnic.

Prior to the game the traveling Sportsmanship trophy will be awarded and all Little Leaguers who graduated from the League this year will be presented certificates.

The All-Star game will be nine-innings and every boy picked on each team, the National and American, will get to play.

Over at the big baseball park another accident occurred but was of a minor nature. Jimmy Wiesing, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wiesing, 1616 West 11th suffered a leg injury.

Jimmy, playing with Phillips 66, was at bat. One runner was on first, and Jimmy laid down a bunt and started running for first base. He said he took a long stride just before reaching the bag and his leg seemed to crumple under him.

"I was safe, though," Jimmy explained Tuesday morning. "They put a man on base to run for me."

He pulled the muscles or tendons in the right leg between the knee and thigh. He was taken to Bothwell Hospital where X-ray pictures were taken to see if there could be a fracture.

Phillips beat Taystee 8-3.

Soviet Says Inquiry Shows No US Personnel As Being Detained

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government said today "a careful investigation" shows that no U. S. servicemen are detained in this country.

The Foreign Ministry rejected a U. S. charge that Russia is holding American Air Force and Navy fliers shot down by Soviet pilots.

The denial note, delivered to the American Embassy, replied to a U. S. note of July 16. The U. S. note referred specifically to the crews of two American planes — a Navy Privateer lost over the Baltic April 8, 1950, with 10 men aboard and an Air Force B29 that went down with 12 aboard June 13, 1952 off Siberia.

Organ Recital Is Presented At Wesleyan

The new organ in the Wesley Methodist Church was dedicated in a special service at 8 o'clock Monday evening when an organ recital was given by Mrs. Marie Singleton of Kansas City. The three-tone Hammond organ with electronic chimmes has two units, one on either side of the chancel, and one above in the balcony which is the echo, which can be played independently or together.

The service, of which the Rev. Lee F. Soxman, pastor, was in charge, opened with a brief call to worship with the congregation singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Invocation was by the minister after which a short message on the beauty of color and sound which is used so effectively in the modern churches was given by the Rev. R. M. Lebew, district superintendent of the Methodist churches.

Joe Allen, chairman of the organ committee then presented the organ for dedication with the congregation participating with responsive reading and prayer.

Rev. Soxman introduced Mrs. Marie E. Singleton of Kansas City who presented the following program:

"Suite Gothique"; "Notre Dame"; "Prelude in E Minor" by Bach; "When Children Pray" by Fenner; "Jesus Joy of Man's Deserving" by Bach; "Andante in F" Lefebure - Wely; "Angelus" from "Scenes Pittoresques"; Massenet; a medley of hymns; "Serenade" by Schubert; "Liebsfreud" by Chrysler; "Cascades in the Sunlight" by Savage.

Upon request Mrs. Singleton played "The Whistler and His Dog" and "The Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sosa.

The benediction was given by Rev. Soxman and the postlude was the Hallelujah Chorus.

After the concert a number of people who had not been through the new church were taken on a tour of the building.

Kansas Delegates Meet Chandler, Ask Him to Lead Singing

CHICAGO (AP)—Kansas delegates to the national Democratic convention met "Happy" last night and wound up singing a song.

Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky dropped in on the Kansas group during an informal social gathering.

After Chandler told the delegates he is a serious candidate for the presidential nomination, somebody asked him if he would lead the group in singing "Gold Mine in the Sky." Chandler did.

On a more serious note, the stocky Kentucky chief executive said "if you want to win with me because I want to carry the flag uphill. I think we are in a deadlock here. Do not make the mistake of going with a man who couldn't win before."

Chandler didn't mention him by name but he obviously referred to Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952.

Chandler, former national baseball commissioner, told about his baseball background and his record in 25 years of public life.

"What's the matter with the Kansas City Athletics?" asked one delegate. "Why can't they win a game?"

"Just give Lou Boudreau time," Chandler replied. Boudreau is the manager of the American League's cellar-dwelling A's.

While the delegates were enjoying themselves in the lighter aspects of the convention, Kenneth Anderson of Emporia, national committeeman, predicted Stevenson would get the delegation's entire 18 votes on the first ballot.

Supporters of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, the other leading candidate for the presidential nomination, came up with different totals.

They said yesterday Harriman has at least 7½ votes in the Kansas delegation, or a total of 15 delegates. The 32 Kansas delegates each have one-half vote.

It will take at least 8½ votes, or a majority of the delegation, before a candidate can claim all of the delegation's votes. The delegation is under the unit rule whereby all of the group's votes will be cast according to the wishes of the majority.

Effie A. Ryan Becomes Bride Of Rev. D. Mabry

Miss Effie Alice Ryan, daughter of Jacob O. Ryan, Manitowish Waters, Wis., and Mrs. Hubert Duggins, 1120 East 15th, and the Rev. Doyle Ross Mabry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Mabry, 2107 South Missouri, were united in marriage by the Rev. F. R. Luckey in a double ring ceremony performed at 6:30 o'clock the evening of July 18 at the Shrine of Jesus before a background of huckleberry and jade foliage and arrangements of baby blue and sugar pink majestic daisies and baby breath tied with pink satin.

Rev. Mabry lighted the white tapers in two seven-branch candelabra, one on either side of the altar, lighting a picture of Christ centered on the altar.

Mrs. F. R. Luckey, Sedalia, played the traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn, and "I Love You Truly," by Bond, and "Because" by D'Hardelot.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, wore a princess style, ballerina length summer dress of nylon sheer in light pink and white, styled with a twin fold V-neck front and back. A headclip of white straw and white forget-me-nots held a double light blue nylon illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white carnations with a shower of pink satin.

The maid of honor, Miss Loella Mabry, Kansas City, wore a ballerina length gown of baby blue and carried a bouquet of red carnations with pink satin streamers.

William R. Mabry served as best man.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom wore linen dresses of dusty blue and navy blue with black accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

A reception was held immediately after the wedding at the home of the bride's parents. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with baby blue and sugar pink rosebuds and green petals with a miniature bride and groom on the top tier.

The wedding party enjoyed a chicken dinner at the Old Missouri Homestead after the reception.

After a wedding trip in Topeka, Kan., the couple is now living in Sedalia.

Registration Time Again...

Now that the August 7 primary has become a matter of recorded figures, and lean ones at that, what will be the response of citizens voting in the national election, November 6?

For those 4,500 Sedalia citizens estimated not to be legally registered, it is time for them to start giving this matter attention. That is if they anticipate voting. The office of County Clerk Jim Green is now open for this purpose and will be until October 8. After that date there can be no more registrations until the November election date is passed. That's the law — registration books must be closed 28 days before an election.

Under the new card index system — and it's a dandy — the county clerk keeps record every time each citizen votes. If he or she misses four election votes then their name comes off the records and a new registration is required.

There were an estimated 9,000 Sedalians registered in time to vote in the August primary. Of this number 3,788 did so. Compare that figure with the 4,961 Sedalians who voted in the 1952 primary and you get some idea of the lack of interest in this year's primary plus the lagging registration. The Pettis county vote (outside Sedalia) also fell off from 2,326 in 1952 to 1,782 a week ago.

Calculation that 4,500 Sedalians are still unregistered is made on an estimate that there should be 13,500 names on the city cards.

Parenthetically, while stressing the need for registration between now and October 8, it might be mentioned that the Republican vote in Sedalia and Pettis County fell off from over 2,621 in 1952 to 1,407 (approximately) in 1956 or a drop of 1,214. The Democratic vote fell off only 505. In 1952 Democrats were running 2,000 heavier than the Republicans. In the 1956 primary the lead increased to 2,754.

The total vote shrinkage of both parties was 1,719 of which 1,214 were Republicans and 505 Democrats.

The Republicans dropped off 516 in the county, and 698 in Sedalia for the total of 1,214. The Democrats dropped off only 30 in the county and 475 in Sedalia for a total of 505.

Naturally there'll be more interest in the general election but this interest can't be sustained unless the unregistered voters protect their right by registering between now and October 8, and then all of them go to the polls and vote November 6.

An urgent appeal is made for the unregistered not to wait until the last minute thereby causing congestion in the county clerk's office.

There are almost eight weeks left to do it leisurely.

The World Today—

Civil Rights Feud Has Fizzle in Sizzle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

CHICAGO (AP)—There is an air of unreality — a fizzle in the sizzle — in the struggle over the kind of civil rights plank the Democrats will put in their party platform.

No explosion, no party-shattering fight, no walkout by Southern Democrats is expected.

The likely result: a plank that tries to be all things to all people: One that satisfies and attracts any Negroes in Northern cities, and at the same time, is worded mildly enough to be acceptable to the Southerners.

It can be said with almost complete certainty that the next Congress — Democratic or Republican — will not pass any new civil rights laws which this convention may promise.

The reason is simple: In the Senate Southern Democrats would filibuster to death any effort to bring up a civil rights bill. Under Senate rules it is practically impossible to stop a filibuster.

This year's Democratic plank on civil rights will be meaningless if it promises action by Congress. Congress hasn't passed civil rights legislation in more than a generation.

The only progress made in civil rights has been by presidential action or rulings of the Supreme Court. The Democrats can't, of course, make any promises for the court.

They could endorse principles which would more or less commit a Democratic president to some action. But neither Adlai Stevenson nor Gov. Averell Harriman of

New York, the leading candidates for the party's presidential nomination, has made any militant promises.

Southern leaders here have felt they had to put up some kind of fight against almost the mildest kind of civil rights plank. These Southerners know they have bargaining power: the rest of the party can't afford to lose them in a year when President Eisenhower looks like an odds-on winner over any Democratic candidate.

Southern voting in the past two presidential elections is a reminder to the rest of the party that the South has political value.

As a result of a fight over civil rights in the 1948 convention, four Southern states — South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana — broke away from the party.

At the 1952 convention there was a bitter dispute over civil rights. Texas, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee voted for Eisenhower — probably because of his personal popularity.

More significant in 1952 that the only nine states which voted Democratic were Southern or border states: Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Kentucky and West Virginia.

The Southerners know they have to make some concessions. Their problem is deciding where to stop. The rest of the party's problem is finding out where they draw the line on pushing the Southerners.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Many Methods Are Used Now to Treat Leukemia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Mrs. B. writes that a member of her family has leukemia. She was supposed to have had the type of disease that would take her fast, but it seems she has pulled through the critical stage and now stays about the same. "What," Mrs. B. asks, "can I do to prolong her life? She is 83 years old."

In the simplest terms I can use, leukemia is a disease of unknown origin, probably involving the tissues which manufacture white blood cells. Its principal characteristic is the appearance of immature and abnormal white cells in the blood stream.

There are several varieties of leukemia, classified on the basis of the kinds of immature or abnormal cells found and whether the disease is rapidly progressive or chronic. From the patient's standpoint, the important factor is usually whether the leukemia is acute or chronic; it is a fairly frequent occurrence for the disease to start in an acute manner and then become chronic.

The frequency of leukemia seems to be increasing. There are said to be 15,000 to 20,000 patients with leukemia in the United States at all times, and about 5,000 newly discovered cases of the disease each year.

In addition to the abnormal white blood cells, leukemia is frequently associated with enlargement of the spleen, changes in the bone marrow and a decrease in the number of red cells in the blood, thus producing an anemia.

In acute varieties, treatment (such as it is) is aimed at slowing down the course of the disease so that it will become chronic. This slowing down occurs often.

A fast amount of research on leukemia is now going on, some of it supported by grants from the Leukemia Society in New York City. Of course, we want to know much more about cause as well as treatment.

Diagnosis, on the other hand, is comparatively simple. It is made by examining the blood under a microscope. This is done by taking a small drop of blood, diluting it and counting the white cells. Some blood is also smeared on microscope.

What about treatment today? A large number of methods are in use. Some of them have real value and perhaps even more promise for the future.

Those methods which sustain the patient are useful and include blood transfusions, nutritious foods, vitamins, and the like.

Arsenic solutions, ACTH and cortisone, and a number of chemical agents often have their place in treatment. The use of X-rays or radioactive substances of other sorts may be helpful.

Some of the developments of atomic research also hold promise of revealing a great deal of information to those investigating leukemia.

Missouri Leads In Women Delegates

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

CHICAGO — Missouri leads with the most women delegates-alternates at the Democratic convention here in Chicago.

Ringling up a total of 42, Missouri women are ahead of the second contender, Michigan, with 35. Others at the top are California with 32; New York, 31; Pennsylvania, 29; Florida, 26, and Oklahoma with 24.

Missouri's only woman in the House of Representatives, Leonor Sullivan, was scheduled to address the full convention August 14th.

Mrs. Sullivan, who will vote for favorite son, Senator Stuart Symington, will make "housing" a campaign issue if she can. She'll bear down on "the effect of high interest rates and how they have held back the housing needed."

The other six Democrat women in the House will speak briefly, too. Katie Louchheim, director of Women's activities of the Democratic National Committee, says she believes "spotlighting already elected women to the Congress indicates the increasing emphasis the Democrats put on the importance of women in politics."

Stevenson's Views More Critical Than Constructive

By PETER EDSON

CHICAGO — Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson's views on foreign policy are more criticism of the Eisenhower administration's conduct of foreign affairs than they are constructive new policies of his own.

"Witness the recent absurd contradictions between the President, Vice-President and Secretary of State about neutralism and the morality of uncommitted nations—only the last of a long, humiliating series," Stevenson declared in his recent speech before the Colorado Democratic convention.

In an earlier Jefferson-Jackson Day speech at Seattle, Stevenson admitted that he did not believe all the Eisenhower administration foreign policies were wrong or had wholly failed. But he also said that they were not all right and that foreign policy discussion could not be kept out of the coming campaign.

Stevenson decried the attempts to carry on foreign affairs with mere slogans like, "Liberation," "Unleashing Chiang Kai-shek," "Massive Retaliation," "Spirit of Geneva," "Brink of War," "More Bang for a Buck," "Everything is Booming but the Guns" and a chorus of "Peace and Prosperity."

"We have been spending 40 billions a year for peace and prosperity and there is none," he declared at Detroit, Mar. 10.

Developing this charge at Orlando a week later, Stevenson said the American position was under pressure and retreat from Iceland to Japan. The Soviet is surpassing us in armed strength. Also, he said there was a terrible drift to war in the Middle East.

Stevenson has said, "We should assist Israel with arms to PREVENT aggression." This is contrary to Eisenhower administration policy. But, "Once the arms balance is restored," says Stevenson, "the U.S. should ask all other nations to embargo arms shipments to the Middle East."

In his Pensacola speech, Stevenson declared that, "We must approach the peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin-America not as a rich military power... but as friends and partners, seeking to develop resources for the people of the world."

In this same speech Stevenson said that if he were president he would follow up the suggestion of Italy's President Gronchi to build the North Atlantic Treaty Organization into a social and economic community.

Stevenson's most comprehensive speech on foreign policy was made before American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington last April. He charged then that the United States had come dangerously close to losing its leadership in the world—economically, militarily and morally. Then he gave his ideas on how that leadership might be regained.

His first was that foreign policy is not only what we do but how we do it.

"Smugness, arrogance and talking big are poison," he said. "We want to be recognized not as bold, but as prudent. That rules out... boasting about conducting this nation three times to the brink of war."

In Stevenson's second point he advocated ending the hydrogen-bomb tests as a first step towards disarmament, which he said could be achieved only one step at a time.

His third recommendation was to revise our method of giving foreign aid. He advocated channeling more of it through the United Nations. "We should stop using our money to bribe feeble governments and set up rubber check military pacts which will bounce as soon as we try to collect them," he said.

Stevenson also suggested further exploration of the idea of using U.S. farm surpluses to a greater degree as foreign aid.

Finally, Stevenson urged greater use of American aid to develop atomic power in under-developed countries. This was, of course, the original Eisenhower "Atoms for Peace" plan.

Stevenson's main argument in favor of his foreign policy program is that it would force Soviet Russia into responsible international cooperation. His aim is, "to rally the nations of the world for a world wide war against want."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Times change, and along with the passing of time, our life patterns and ways of doing things change. America used to buy its food and clothing, its hardware, its notions and hundreds of other items at the general store. Then came the department store to transform the idea of the general store for urban use.

The next step in merchandising was the idea of specialization. Individual shops were opened to sell limited kinds of items related to single interests, to small sectors of life or to special services. These small shops were later brought together in shopping centers and in super markets.

Regardless of the change which has taken place, we find that each development has grown from the ideas of individual people who conceived of service to their fellowmen. Some people have gone into business merely to make profit and many of them have overlooked the public demand for service at a reasonable price.

Day by day we vote for the stores and the services we want at a price we are willing to pay. Our votes are cast on the basis of the spiritual concept of individual freedom, service and personal satisfaction.

Sometimes we demand more than we give. We find the votes of our fellowmen being cast against us. We find that we have taken more than we have given. We have forgotten service. We have forgotten the love of God, which gave us our freedom. We have taken God's gifts for granted and have sold them as our own. One of the Creator's first rules is the Golden Rule.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Herter and Kefauver Lead in Poll

By DREW PEARSON

CHICAGO — With a big question mark at both Chicago and San Francisco centering on the nominations for Vice President, the Washington Merry-Go-Round has conducted a poll of Newspaper Editors publishing the column. These Editors — 600 of them — cover the entire country and include an average cross section of both Democratic and Republican papers.

The question asked them was: whom do you consider to be the most effective candidate for Vice-President in the Republican and Democratic parties? The results showed Governor Herter of Massachusetts running ahead of Vice President Nixon, and Senator Kefauver of Tennessee running ahead of Humphrey of Missouri. Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota received only a scattering of votes.

Here is the detailed reaction of Editors:

On the Republican Ticket:
Herter..... 41 per cent
Nixon..... 37.5 per cent
Sec. of the Treasury Humphrey... 11 per cent

On the Democratic Ticket:
Kefauver..... 35 per cent
Symington..... 26 per cent
Sen. Kennedy of Mass..... 16 per cent
Sen. Humphrey of Minn..... 4.5 per cent

Chicago - Go - Round

Ex-President Truman's statement on Civil Rights was mild compared to the private views he aired. Less than 30 minutes before his public testimony, he told Minnesota's Senator Humphrey that the Democrats should take a strong stand on Civil Rights. "We should make our position clear," he said firmly. As for Southern reaction, he snorted: "You know we got along without those boys in 1948." Southern leaders agreed at a secret caucus to behave like Southern gentlemen and not cross-examine Negro witnesses testifying in favor of civil rights. However, Georgia firebrand John Sammons Bell blurted out: "I agree not to cross-examine Negroes, but I don't know if I can resist cross-examining those Labor leaders." A Louisiana delegate jumped up in the rear and shouted, "If this is going to be an anti-labor meeting, I'm walking out right now." Bell sheepishly backtracked.

Governor Harriman should be nominated at least as the most persistent candidate. He has been working twenty hours a day, visiting and telephoning delegates. For a full month before the convention he telephoned ex-president Truman daily for advice. Harriman has also personally talked to nearly every Kefauver's delegate. For example, he telephoned Kefauver's Iowa chairman, Cecil Malone, four times. All Malone got from Adlai Stevenson was an im-

Guest Editorial—

MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL: Time For Surprise. Russian schools are a greater threat than Russian planes and bombs, in the opinion of John A. Kennedy, Sioux Falls, S. D., editor.

Mr. Kennedy has recently returned from a month in Russia and reported what he saw in a copyrighted article in the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader.

What impressed him most was the schools, which are in session 10 months a year and six days a week. Greek history is taught to the fifth grade, a foreign language is required in the sixth grade and trigonometry is always part of the tenth grade.

Homework requires at least two and a half hours every day and sometimes there is six hours of it.

In the upper grades the examinations are difficult, and are given by teachers who are strangers to the students. Those who fall out are shifted into trade schools.

Those who survive for college are paid salaries, as well as provided with free tuition.

We have always been proud of the importance we give to public education. We use more local and state taxes for schools than for any other purpose.

It is a surprise to have an editor from the Midwestern plains so favorably impressed by Russian schools as to write what amounts to a warning against softness in our methods.

But it seems to be time for us to be surprised. Our schools graduated about 24,000 engineers this year, while the Russians were graduating 60,000.

personal telegram. Other delegates have received as many as 13 communications from Harriman headquarters in one day.

A surprised visitor at the Democratic convention was Chief Justice Earl Warren's daughter, Virginia. She popped in at Stevenson headquarters and greeted Stevenson's white-haired campaign lieutenant, Hy Raskin, with a gleeful kiss. Though a daughter of the nation's second most prominent Republican, Miss Warren explained she loves conventions so much she decided to attend both the Democratic and the Republican. Gwen Gibson, girl reporter for the New York Daily News, tried to sneak an advance copy of the Democratic platform by posing as a young Democrat volunteer worker. She helped mimeograph a lengthy platform, which turned out to be the young Democrats' platform — which news-wise was worthless. Ex-Secret Service agent John Walker caused surprise gasps when he strode into the Democratic platform meeting. He's a dead ringer for Senator Joe McCarthy.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Mild
It was Mrs. Roosevelt, believe it or not, who indirectly caused Adlai Stevenson to take a stronger public stand on civil rights. She didn't know it and didn't mean to, but she did.

Here is the inside story of what happened. Stevenson received a proposed civil rights plank last week which had been approved by Mrs. Roosevelt. He was startled to see that the once great champion of civil rights had okayed a very mild statement that didn't even mention the Supreme Court ruling. He was amazed.

At one time Mrs. Roosevelt had been the chief person in the White House who needed her husband on civil rights, urged him to push a Fair Employment Practice Commission. Last week, however, Mrs. Roosevelt, though not the author of the mild civil rights statement, had okayed it.

Stevenson felt that the Supreme Court decision must be included in the civil rights plank and held a meeting with his advisers at the Blackstone hotel. Present were James Finnegan, his campaign manager, and his assistant, Walter Johnson. They agreed that the Supreme Court decision was now the law of the land and that this interpretation of the Constitution could not be ignored in the civil rights plank. They figured that Mrs. Roosevelt's adoption of such cautious moderation would play first into the hands of Averell Harriman; second into the hands of Republicans. Finally they concluded it would be wise for Stevenson to make his views known in advance.

As a result, he made a deliberate statement supporting the Supreme Court. His TV interview was no accident.

Cost of Living

How farm prosperity or lack of it gets translated into the city workers' prosperity, and vice versa, also has to be watched closely for its political influence.

There is a slow, "creeping" inflationary pressure apparent in many lines.

The consumer price index reached a record high of 116.2 for June. The increase was largely due to a two per cent increase in the cost of foods. Some 65 of the 78 food items priced showed increases in all 46 of the cities surveyed.

The steel strike settlement with its three-year wage increase is expected to result in higher steel prices. New car models introduced this fall are expected to be slightly higher. Tire prices have already been raised as a result of recent wage increases in the rubber industry.

There has been a steady rise in consumer income during the first half year. Consumer income is expected to increase further under the new wage agreements.

The total effect of all these inflationary pressures is to give the impression of increasing prosperity, which is just what the Republicans want.

Thought for Today—

Butler, CBS Have Battle Over a Film

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler and the Columbia Broadcasting System were in dispute today over whether CBS went back on a commitment to televise a filmed portion of last night's Democratic convention program.

Butler angrily called CBS' action "absolute sabotage of an important part of our program." In New York, CBS Vice President Sig Mickelson said that "at no time did we make any commitment to carry" the film which dealt with Democratic party history.

Right after the film ended, Butler told the convention crowd a major TV network had failed to carry the film, presented just before the keynote speech of Gov. Frank G. Clement. Butler did not name CBS at that time.

Later, after Mickelson issued his statement, Butler told newsmen Frank Stanton, CBS President, had made a commitment as long ago as last February to carry the film as part of the convention program.

Stanton could not be reached immediately for comment. Mickelson said that CBS did not know the film was considered as an official part of the keynote speech, adding that "we operated under the traditional pattern of news coverage of national political conventions by exercising our news judgment in reporting elements of the convention story."

Butler, who said the Democrats had spent "many thousands of dollars" to get the film produced, asserted he would demand that CBS carry it later. He said he wanted to thank NBC and ABC "for keeping their commitments" by carrying the film.

Double of 'Nautilus' Engine Runs Steadily For 66 Days, Nights

WASHINGTON (AP)—A duplicate of the atomic engine which powers the submarine Nautilus has been run continuously at full power for 66 days and nights without refueling.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing completion of the test run at its Idaho testing station, said the experiment was made "to prove the reliability and stamina of pressurized water reactors for ship propulsion." It added:

"If the Nautilus itself had made a cruise for this length of time—1,600 hours—she could have steamed at top speed, submerged, around the world and many thousands of miles more."

Unusual Emphasis

LIMON, Colo. (AP)—Scoutmaster Wilbur H. Welch, 33, put across his point—painfully—at a Boy Scout meeting at his home.

While showing his troop how to load a .22 caliber target pistol, Welch accidentally discharged the weapon. He suffered a minor flesh wound in the leg.

Warm Weather Is Due For Most of Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warm weather was the outlook for most of the country today with no relief from the blistering heat in the Southern Plains.

Showers and thunderstorms also were forecast for wide areas in the Southeast, the plains region and the lower Ohio Valley.

Thunderstorms and showers hit areas during the night from New York state southwestward to New Mexico. Heaviest amounts were in the Ohio Valley, with nearly 1 inch reported at Dayton, Ohio, and Evansville, Ind. In the southeast, biggest rainfall reported was 1.06 inches at Montgomery, Ala.

Temperatures climbed above 100 degrees in parts of Oklahoma yesterday and more of the same was forecast for the Southern Plains. Kansas was in line for a little cooling.

Fire Takes 85,000 Chickens on British Millionaire's Farm

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Fire destroyed some 85,000 chickens today at the farm of a British millionaire, P. O. G. Wakeham.

The cause of the fire was not immediately determined. Authorities did not rule out sabotage by EOKA, the underground fighting unit of the Cypriot movement seeking union with Greece. The damage totaled several thousand British pounds.

Wakeham's is the largest chicken farm on Cyprus. He is a partner in a civil engineering firm handling War Office contracts. Just yesterday an underwater bomb, apparently set by an EOKA frogman, sank the yacht of another British millionaire, Capt. Charles Worthington, at Kyrenia Harbor across the island.

Frustrated Farmer Gives Away String Beans in Disgust

BALTIMORE (AP)—A frustrated New York farmer gave away two truckloads of string beans free last night.

Beans spilled from broken bags, crowds gathered and traffic snarled on lower Broadway as Robert Castle of Route 1, Bainbridge, N. Y., handed out the goods. There were 627 bushels.

Castle was quoted as saying the firm bought 426 bushels, then tried to cut the price for the rest of his load contrary to agreement, saying the quality was low. "It was a wonderful crop," said Castle.

"I'm disgusted," he went on. "I'm going back and sell my farm."

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wedding of Pvt. Jerry Dewan, a soldier on leave from Fort Carson, Colo., and Mrs. Mary Farkas, Van Nuys, Calif., divorcee, will have to wait a while.

Police interrupted their plans yesterday. They arrested the pair in a service station and booked them on suspicion of three hold-ups.

Gagne, Dusek Vie for Mat Title Tonight

Tonight's Wrestling Card
At Liberty Ball Park—8:15

MAIN EVENT
Verne Gagne, 228, Robbinsdale, Minn. vs. Joe Dusek, 233, Omaha. Best two out of three falls, or a 60-minute time limit.

GIRLS' FEATURE
Ada Ash, 140, Lake Worth, Fla., vs. Kathy Starr, 137, Columbus, Ohio. Best two out of three falls, or a 45-minute time limit.

SPECIAL EVENT
Roy McClarity, 235, Montreal, Canada, vs. Jim Dobie, 226, Independence, Mo. One fall, or a 30-minute time limit.

Matches sponsored by Pettis American Legion Post.
Gates and box office open at 7:15.

Verne Gagne—the heavyweight who has never been defeated—will be staking two coveted honors in the Liberty Ball Park's wrestling ring here tonight. Verne will be placing his perfect mat record and his United States TV championship belt on the line against the challenge of wild and wooly Joe Dusek in a match billed as the most outstanding bout ever presented in Sedalia's mat history.

Gagne has never before collided with any member of the Dusek brothers' "wrecking crew" and this factor is creating added interest among the fans for tonight's crucial title testing. The match will be another first for it will mark Gagne's initial appearance in Sedalia.

Joe Dusek, who holds the Missouri state title, has been trying for several months to get a shot at Gagne's crown. With his state victory skin running to 19 successive victories, Dusek finally obtained his request when Matchmaker Gust Karras succeeded in procuring Gagne's name on a contract which calls for him to defend the U. S. diadem.

Gagne is probably the most publicized wrestler in the sport today. He has remained unconquered since taking over the heavyweight division. He relinquished the world junior heavyweight crown three years ago when he couldn't keep his weight under the 205-pound mark—the limit for a junior heavy. In a matter of only a few months after stepping up to the heavyweight class, Gagne was the top attraction in the nationally televised matches out of Chicago. He won the U. S. title about two years ago and still hasn't been pinned in a deciding fall.

Two N.C.A.A. and three Big Ten championships are among Gagne's list of mat achievements as an amateur. He also won a berth on the 1948 U. S. Olympic wrestling team which competed at the London Games.

Dusek is recognized as the king of the Middle West's mat roughers and the villainous Nebraskan is certain to put his rough-housing tricks into full operation against Gagne here tonight. Whether Gagne's speedy, scientific-style measures will stand up against Dusek's strong-arm measures will probably become the deciding factor during their best-of-three falls title clash.

The girl wrestlers—always popular attractions here—will share the ring spotlight with Ada Ash, the "alligator girl," squaring off against Kathy Starr, who hit the top ten list among the nation's leading feminine stars for 1955. Miss Ash attracted considerable attention in Missouri mat circles two weeks ago when she wrestled a 200-pound live Florida alligator. She's the only girl athlete to ever tackle the dangerous task.

Roy McClarity of Canada, another widely known TV mat personality, will match his clean-cut stylings against Missouri's own Jim Dobie of Independence in the special event which opens the well-balanced three-match program at 8:15.

The ball park gates and box office will open at 7:15. There is no increase in ticket prices for tonight's U. S. title match.

Four Games Behind Braves--

Cincinnati Redlegs May Have Reached End of Line in Race

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Have the Cincinnati Redlegs, who figured "to go as far as our pitching will carry us," reached the end of the line?

It was Manager Birdie Tebbets who tagged his pitching the big "if" in the National League pennant chase, and now that his not-so-robust Redlegs are slumping at the plate just when the pitching is in need of a lift, the Cincys are hurt.

Tebbetts needed a "stopper" last night with relief ace Buster Freeman sidelined by a freak mishap and Hal Jencoat and Brooks Lawrence taking their lumps, but he couldn't find one. Milwaukee first-place Braves tagged Johnny Klippstein and swept the final three games of their four-game set with a 5-1 decision.

The defeat skidded the Redlegs four games behind the Braves and two back of Brooklyn, raised out at New York in the only other

Scot Drops Tradition After Court Charge

EASTBOURNE, England (AP)—For centuries tradition-minded Scotsmen have worn nothing beneath their kilts. But 69-year old David M. Cummings, an old Cameron Highlander, has added an undergarment. Here's why: Cummings was strolling down the beach, a proud and handsome sight in his green and red tartan kilt, Highland jacket and big bow tie.

Then the sea breezes became indiscreet. The next thing Cummings knew, he was in court facing an indecency charge.

"In the Cameron Highlanders," Cummings explained to the judge, "we were never allowed to wear anything under the kilt—even in the dead of winter. So I've never worn anything under mine."

"But in view of this incident, I intend to wear something henceforward. In fact, I've got them on now."

Mickey Mantle Has to Face Battle Alone

NEW YORK (AP)—Gnarled old Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, let it be known today that Mickey Mantle is strictly on his own in his pursuit of Babe Ruth's home run record.

With 43 games to go, starting with tonight's date with the Boston Red Sox, Mantle must hit 20 homers to eclipse Ruth's mark of 60 and become the present-day Sultan of Swat.

"I don't know how I can help him toward the record," croaked Stengel. "It's a job he'll have to do himself. The pitchers won't help him any."

"They'll walk him half the time anyway or give him bad balls to hit at, so it's a problem he has to face himself."

The suggestion was raised that maybe Stengel would consider batting Mantle in the leadoff spot, so Mickey would get to the plate more often.

"No dice," said the professor. "You build your batting order to win ball games, and besides he would get only six or eight more times at bat if he was the first hitter."

"Well, then, does the Professor think his man will break the record?"

"Half the time I doubt it," he answered. "They figure to make it tougher and tougher for him. They're sure not giving him much to hit and the longer they do that, the more anxious he might become to take a swipe at some of those bad pitches."

Mantle talks less about the record than anyone. He does admit that he is getting fewer and fewer good pitches to hit.

"I'd like to hit 75, if I could," he said. "But I'm not worrying too much about it. What I'm trying to do is get a piece of the ball, so I can keep hitting around that .370 mark."

Ray Robinson, Gene Fullmer Bout Planned

NEW YORK (AP)—A middleweight championship fight between Sugar Ray Robinson, the 36-year-old king of the division, and Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, was in the planning stage today with the International Boxing Club in the unusual position of a rank outsider.

Also in the talking stage was a feud between Robinson and the IBC, which holds an exclusive contract with the retired song-and-dance man.

Robinson said he had bolted the IBC stable—he's not worried about the contract—because he couldn't get enough money from President Jim Norris and Co. for a title defense.

"I'm finished with Norris and the IBC," he said. "They don't want to give me a guarantee for theater television, so I'm going to fight Fullmer in Los Angeles for Cal Eaton."

"The fight probably will be Sept. 24 or 25. Eaton and I have almost everything straightened out. He offered me $125,000, including $15,000 for training expenses and 60 per cent of whatever we get for television."

While IBC officials wouldn't say so for publication, most of them privately were hoping that Robinson was bluffing. He has used independent promoters before as "persuaders" to Norris.

"I've got only one title to put on the line," commented Robinson. "and I'm going to get all I can. If I lose the title, I've got nothing else. Norris wants everything for himself. I can get more on the coast and I'm going there."

The only member of the IBC official family who was available for comment was Managing Director Harry Markson.

"We lost a good deal of enthusiasm for promoting the fight when we learned that Robinson wanted 47½ per cent and the entire 60 per cent of the TV, leaving Fullmer 12½ per cent," said Markson.

Country Club Team Leads Countryview

Little more than a hair's breadth separated the Sedalia Country Club and Sedalia Countryview golf teams Sunday when the two met in the first of two 18-hole inter-club matches.

The match, played on Countryview's sand greens circuit, saw the Country Club pile up a total of 677 points while Countryview amassed 673, only four points apart. Countryview is defending champion of the inter-club event.

The two teams teed a total of 50 players for the match with 25 representing each club.

Heading up the Country Club golfers in points was Frank Reynolds, who collected 41. Tops for the host public linksters was John Cryan with 37½.

Medal score honors for the day were shared by Reynolds and Lloyd Parker, of the Country Club. Reynolds toured the layout in 37-35—72, and Parker finished with 35-37—72, both even par. Cryan of Countryview led his team by shooting only one over regulation figures, 36-37—73.

Sedalia's two golf clubs will collide again next Sunday on the grass greens of the Country Club, which will decide the winner.

Segregation Issue Faces GOP Group

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The issue of segregation confronts a Republican National Convention subcommittee today as two Mississippi delegations dispute the state's 15 convention votes.

The convention opens in the San Francisco Cow Palace Monday.

A group led by E. O. Spencer and Wirt Yerger Jr., contending it represents the Citizens for Eisenhower organization, which produced 112,000 Mississippi voters for Eisenhower in 1952, is challenging the delegation headed by Perry W. Howard, Negro attorney who has served as the state's national committeeman since 1924.

In a brief submitted to the contest subcommittee, Howard called the Spencer-Yerger group the "Lily White Republicans," and asserted they "have not allowed a colored person to participate."

The Spencer-Yerger delegation replied in their brief that, although their meetings were fully open to Negroes, none chose to appear.

"The attempt to raise the racial issue is merely an unwarranted attempt to divert attention from the true issues involved in this contest," the Spencer-Yerger brief declared.

The contest subcommittee headed by Albert K. Mitchell, New Mexico national committeeman, will hear the Mississippi delegations in executive session.

Mitchell's subcommittee also will hear a South Carolina dispute in which David Dows of Greenville heads a group challenging a delegation headed by Mrs. John E. Messervy of Charleston, national committeewoman.

The subcommittee's report and decision on both issues will be delivered at a meeting of the Republican National Committee tomorrow. Losers may appeal at the open and public session of the national committee and then if they still are not satisfied can carry the fight to the Credentials Committee of the convention Monday.

The boys were taken off the train at New London to await the arrival of their parents.

Truman's Fight Against Adlai Sees No Letup

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman's all-out fight to prevent Adlai Stevenson's nomination as Democratic presidential candidate continued without letup today.

His lieutenants claimed success so far in his efforts to keep "favorite sons" in the running, and in lining up an unannounced number of previously uncommitted delegates for Gov. Averell Harriman, New York governor and Stevenson's top challenger.

William M. (Bill) Boyle Jr., former Democratic national chairman, said it is "too early" to forecast the result of the drive.

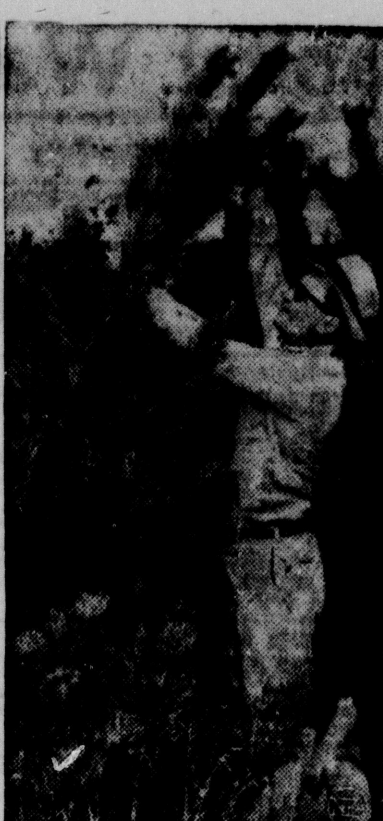

Truman, interviewing relays of delegates at his hotel suite, told newsmen he didn't expect to have an inkling of prospects for Harriman's nomination until "after the first ballot."

Truman realizes his only chance to get Harriman nominated, or to force the convention into a deadlock, is to push the voting beyond the second ballot.

Even then, the consensus is that the convention would turn to a dark horse. And Sen. Stuart Symington is the hope of his own Missouri state delegation.

One of Truman's team said privately his drive would collapse if Sen. Lyndon Johnson should release his 56-vote Texas delegation and endorse Stevenson.

He said the Truman strategy is to keep Johnson in the race. So far, Johnson—describing himself now as a serious contender—is showing no signs of endorsing any other candidate.

It doesn't cost a cent to Take a Ford Test Drive... and you may save hundreds!

Would you trade 20 minutes of your time for a saving of hundreds?

August is Saving Season at your Ford Dealer's. Bag a deal while he clears his decks for the '57 models.

Why put off the fun of a Ford Test Drive for a single day? As you know, it puts you under absolutely no obligation. And it may save you literally hundreds of dollars—we'll get to that a little further on.

By a Test Drive we mean more than a once-around-the-block "spin."

We want you to test the power that rocketed Ford to a 500-mile stock car record at Indianapolis... the GO that won the grand prize at NASCAR's Daytona Championships. We want you to feel how this Ford seat pays off in your kind of driving: in traffic, passing on the highway, getting going at traffic lights. We'll put either a Ford Six or a mighty V-8 with up to 225 h.p. at your disposal.

We want you to drive and listen—drive and feel.

That fine-car quiet results from sound insulation under the hood, under the roof, in door and body panels—the most insulation in any car at anywhere near Ford's low price.

Some other things that contribute to that smooth, silent, luxury-car ride are things which Ford's leading competitor certainly can't boast: Ball-Joint suspension with wide base control arms for better steering, more stabilized wheel alignment... shock absorbers that are mounted to the frame rather than the body.

"Sure," you'll say as you drive along the road. "Feels pretty good—but after all, this car is new."

Well sir, when you come in from your drive we'll show you why Ford will stay like new for a long, long time.

We'll show you how Ford has five cross-members (including a "K" member) in its frame. Ford's leading competitor only has two. We'll show you the deep-block Y-like engine design which enables Ford engines to take it.

Now—what you've been waiting for. How can you save hundreds of dollars by taking a Ford Test Drive?

Simply by proving to yourself that there really is a fine car in the low-price field.

You see, the reason a Ford does not cost hundreds of dollars more than it does, is Ford's huge production and the huge volume which we Ford Dealers sell.

There are many cases where "medium-priced" cars claim to be priced within a few hundred dollars of Ford. Remember, however, these prices are usually arrived at by comparing their lowest-priced models—stripped—with Ford's most expensive models that include all of the comforts of driving.

But enough of this talk. Come in. And you do the driving and the talking. Bring the family, too.

Three Movies Vie for Title Of 'Greatest Picture Made'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is a poor year when Hollywood doesn't come up with "the greatest picture ever made."

But these are boom times, and this year the film industry has spent in the neighborhood of 25 million dollars on three pictures vying for the title of "the greatest ever."

Each is based on a literary classic the ordinary man has heard of all his life, but spent precious little time studying. They are Herman Melville's "Moby Dick," Leo Tolstoy's "War and Peace," and the shortest of the three—the 10 Commandments—Moses brought down from Mount Sinai.

Anyone who claims he has been too busy to read these masterpieces no longer can use that as an excuse. They'll all be available on the screen by the end of the year.

And if this 25-million-dollar gamble doesn't lure the American public away from its television sets and back to the box office, the homes of the movie moguls won't be decked with holly come Christmas. They'll be hung with black crepe.

Veteran Director King Vidor, who spent a year and a half filming "War and Peace," believes Hollywood's return to the colossal epic is its best bet for survival.

"The day of the cheap grind film is over," he said. "To get people out of their homes and into the movie houses you have to give them productions too big to fit a TV screen."

"And they have to be pictures big in theme, too, something they'll remember a long time."

Vidor spent $40 on his first film, a two-reeler on auto racing called, "The Tow," made when he was 18. He played six roles himself and married his leading lady, Florence Vidor, who later became a famous actress.

It cost six million dollars to make "War and Peace," a saga of Napoleon's fatal invasion of Russia and regarded by many as the greatest novel ever written. "That's why I like this business," mused Vidor. "You can go from $40 to six million dollars in a single lifetime. It's the most expensive picture ever made up until now."

But this record, if it is one, has already fallen. Cecil B. DeMille is reported to have spent from 12 million to 15 million dollars on The 10 Commandments, the figure depending on which Paramount Pictures spokesman you talk to.

Vidor had three big problems in bringing "War and Peace" to the screen for the first time.

First, he had to read the novel, which runs to 700,000 words. It took an international crew of writers—two English, two Italian and one American—plus Vidor to turn out a script.

Twins Are Separated By Different Tasks

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—For most of their 27 years, twins Mary and Lillian Migone have been almost inseparable.

Now they are heading for jobs that will take them half a world apart.

The two, after teaching in the Warwick school system, have accepted teaching assignments at schools set up for dependents of U.S. Air Force personnel.

Lillian leaves today for Toul Rosier base 150 miles from Paris.

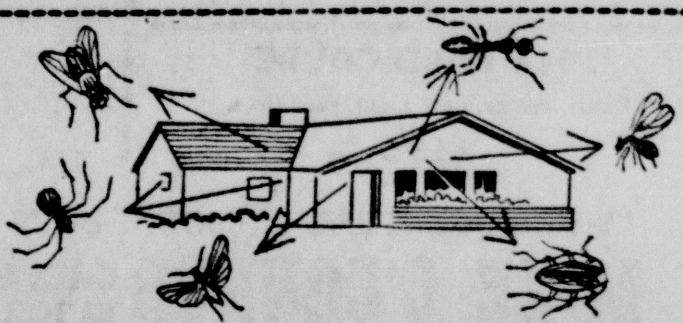

ing, Vidor is hoarse but happy. He feels "War and Peace" is his masterpiece. He is sure it will do better than two of his earlier films, "The Big Parade" and "Duel in the Sun," which were among the industry's biggest all-time money makers. He is mildly hopeful it may even gain him an academy award for direction, an honor that has eluded him through his long career.

But he is sure of one thing. "You have to wait a lot of years before a big subject like 'War and Peace' comes along," he said soberly. "But I'll never make another grind picture."

"I have no neurotic desire to be a millionaire. Merely making money isn't my big goal. I can afford to sit down now and play the guitar until another really good story comes along, and I like to play the guitar."

After a year and a half of yelling, Vidor is hoarse but happy. He feels "War and Peace" is his masterpiece. He is sure it will do better than two of his earlier films, "The Big Parade" and "Duel in the Sun," which were among the industry's biggest all-time money makers. He is mildly hopeful it may even gain him an academy award for direction, an honor that has eluded him through his long career.

Eats Lunch Quickly, Misses Truck Tire

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Ralph K. Steeds was thankful he ate his lunch quickly. Fifteen minutes after finishing the meal, the right front wheel of a large truck flew into his kitchen and bounced around the room. Highway patrol trooper Leo Maxwell said that anyone in the kitchen at the time would have been killed or seriously injured. Damage was estimated at $1,000.
